Form 990 - Organization's Mission or Most Significant Activities

The first program of its kind, NESS is accredited by the New England Association of Schools and Colleges (NEASC). NESS offers a STEM-based curriculum that builds leadership, teamwork, confidence, and problem-solving skills through marine science, sailing, power boating, and adventure sports.

Experiential learning is at the core of our approach, fostering student engagement and agency through hands-on activities and reflective practice. Every NESS lesson is designed to support positive social-emotional learning and academic outcomes, capitalizing on the inherent benefits of experiential learning. Our passionate educators strive to cultivate a love for learning and empower students to take ownership of their educational journey, reinforcing classroom studies and nurturing lifelong learning skills.

These strategies are especially crucial for young adolescents transitioning from the familiar terrain of elementary school to the more complex landscape of high school, where thoughts of future careers or college paths begin to take shape. Middle school marks a significant developmental milestone as students navigate the shift from childhood to young adulthood.

During this phase, they become increasingly self-aware, contemplating their identity, relationships with peers, and roles as students, leaders, athletes, artists, and more. Active, hands-on learning experiences, coupled with collaborative opportunities, are essential for fostering student engagement and academic success during this pivotal period of growth. It is a time when students strive to define themselves positively, seeking acceptance and recognition within their social and academic spheres.

NESS programs are oriented toward supporting a student's academic achievement, as well as offering transformative opportunities for self-discovery, skill development, environmental awareness, teamwork, and nurturing qualities such as self-regulation, and social responsibility. It serves as a critical juncture for all students to stretch beyond their comfort zones and demonstrate their capabilities through new experiences. Notably, students from economically disadvantaged backgrounds or those at risk of academic disengagement stand to benefit from exceptional enrichment programs tailored toward grades 4 through 9.

At NESS, we collaborate closely with teachers to enrich the existing classroom curriculum using our experiential education model, which aligns with Next Generation Science Standards and Ocean Literacy Principles. Our educators infuse STEM subjects with vibrancy and relevance, making learning come alive for students. Depending on the activities and the number of students, we organize them into groups or rotations to optimize engagement and participation. NESS is dedicated to tailoring classroom, field, homeschool, and after-school experiences for students, aligning with existing coursework and emphasizing standards-based learning.
